“A Celebration of Native American Indian Heritage Month – Awareness of Native American Culture and Cultural Issues”

Larry Spotted Crow Mann is a citizen of the Nipmuc Tribe of Massachusetts. He is an internationally acclaimed writer, poet, cultural educator, traditional storyteller, tribal drummer/dancer and motivational speaker involving youth sobriety, cultural and environmental awareness. Mann is also a board member of the Nipmuc Preservation Trust, which is an organization set up to promote the cultural, social and spiritual needs of Nipmuc people, as well as an educational resource of Native American studies. He travels throughout the United States, Canada and parts of Europe to schools, colleges, pow wows and other organizations sharing music, culture and history of Nipmuc people. He has also given lectures at universities throughout New England on issues ranging from Native American Sovereignty to Identity. In 2010, his poetry was a winner in the Memscapes Journal of Fine Arts and in 2013 nominated for the Pushcart Prize. He is the author of the internationally acclaimed “Tales from the Whispering Basket”, as well as the newly released groundbreaking novel, “The Mourning Road to Thanksgiving”.
