This week, we are going to highlight and explore powerful women in literature . . .

A Conversation: Tony Morrison, Race, Class & Gender
Thursday, March 5 | 1-2pm | Wellesley Library Atrium

Tony Morrison was an African American novelist known for her work which commented upon the African American experience in the United States. Morrison's work is characterized by a focus on the themes of racism, class, and gender in the U.S. Join her as she presents her book to students and faculty. Morrison is the winner of the Nobel Prize in Literature and award-winning author.

Ladies May Alcott was an American writer known for her works that explore the societal role of women in America. Her most famous work, "Little Women," captures the experiences of four sisters growing up in Concord, Massachusetts. The novel highlights themes of love, loyalty, and the struggle for independence.

Margaret Atwood is a Canadian author known for her dystopian novels. "The Handmaid's Tale," is perhaps her most famous work, which explores themes of oppression, fertility, and power. Atwood's writing often examines the nature of power and control, particularly in patriarchal societies.

Amy Tan is a Chinese-American author known for her exploration of the Chinese-American experience. "The Joy Luck Club" is her most celebrated novel, which centers on the lives of Chinese mothers and their American-born daughters. The novel examines the cultural conflicts and misunderstandings that arise between generations.

Other titles to look for:
- "The House of the Spirits" by Isabelle Allende
- "The Joy Luck Club" by Amy Tan
- "Alias Grace" by Margaret Atwood
- "Sister Outsider" by Audre Lorde
- "The Cancer Journals" by Audre Lorde
- "The Bonesetter's Daughter" by Amy Tan

Women's History Month!
March is Women's History Month! A celebration and observance of the vital role of women in American history. The purpose is to increase knowledge, awareness, appreciation, and celebration of the contributions of women in American society. Celebrate Women's History Month by visiting the campus board that is recognizing Women's History Month!